

Andreas Sylikiotis was born in Limassol in 1947. In 1950, his family settled in Famagusta. He graduated from the Faculty of Sciences of the Famagusta Greek High School in 1965. After completing his service in the National Guard, he continued his studies in Prague. He is a graduate of the Institute of Chemical Engineering in Prague with a MSc specialization in Oil and Petrochemistry Technology. In 1974, he was recruited by CMC (Cyprus Mining Company) in Xeros where he worked as a production engineer for the processing of copper.

In 1975, he moved to Athens where he worked for five years as a manager of a polyurethane foam factory. He is a member of the Technical Chamber of Greece. In 1978, with Giorgos Thalassinos, they created the furniture and furnishing company "Furniture 2000", which was later renamed Bella Casa. Since returning to Cyprus in 1981 he has been active in PASYBEX's management and has served on the board of directors from various positions. In 2006 he was elected chairman, a post he held until 2015. He remains on the Board of Directors as Vice President. For many years, he has also served as a representative of PASYBEX at the Board of Directors of OEB. He also participated in the Association of Industrialists Association Agios Athanasios.