

Petros Petrou

He holds a degree in Production Engineering & Management from Loughborough University of Technology, UK.

He joined the Cyprus Employers & Industrialists Federation (OEB) in 1984 as an Industrial Relations Officer.

In 2002 he was promoted to the position of Head of the Management Development Department and in 2016 as Head of the Research, Training and European Programmes Department.

His main duties and responsibilities include the supervision and management of research projects, the development of training programmes and consulting in the areas of management, training and development of human resources.

He is also responsible for the supervision, management and implementation of EU cofunded projects.