

Curriculum Vitae
KYRIAKOS ANGELIDES

Kyriakos Angelides graduated from Akropoleos High School and, after serving in the National Guard as a cadet officer, finished his studies in the United Kingdom. In 1998, he obtained a BA degree in Economics from the University of East Anglia, followed by an MA in Industrial Relations & Human Resource Management from Keele University in 1999.

He worked for two years in a multinational company in the field of human resources and, since 2002, has been employed at OEB. Initially, he served as an Officer in Industrial Relations & Labour Legislation and later as an Officer in the Business Development & Economy Department. In 2013, he was promoted to Coordinator of Business Associations at OEB. Among other responsibilities, he manages business associations that are OEB members and works on attracting new business associations to join OEB.

Through his experience as Coordinator of Business Associations and his interaction with Cypriot businesses, he has been involved in providing services to Professional Associations – OEB Members, overseeing and submitting annual financial reports of associations to the Registrar of Trade Unions, and organizing conferences and training programs both in Cyprus and abroad. Additionally, he has been engaged in conducting and implementing studies on economic issues, while also representing OEB in councils, committees, and Parliamentary Committees.
