

Curriculum Vitae

MARCOS KALLIS

Marcos Kallis is a graduate of The English School, Nicosia, and holds a BSc degree in Management Science and Computer Science from Keele University, UK.

He worked for three years in Cypriot professional and IT service companies while simultaneously attending courses for a Master's degree in Business Administration at the Cyprus International Institute of Management (CIIM).

Since 2005, he has been working at the Cyprus Employers & Industrialists Federation (OEB) as an Officer in the Business Development Department. His responsibilities include providing professional and consultancy services to businesses and professional associations, organization of events, business delegations and other OEB initiatives, participation in European and co-funded programs, contribution to surveys and studies and writing articles on topics such as economy, entrepreneurship, innovation, and technology. Additionally, he has played a key role in developing OEB's online presence and technological upgrade.

He represents OEB in various bodies, councils, and committees. As part of his duties, he has also represented OEB at conferences, meetings, and seminars organized by international institutions such as the European Commission, BusinessEurope, the European Economic and Social Committee (EESC) and the International Labour Organization (ILO).
